DETAILED ACTION

Claim Objections

1. Claim 20 is objected to under 37 CFR 1.75 as being a substantial duplicate of claim 19. When two claims in an application are duplicates or else are so close in content that they both cover the same thing, despite a slight difference in wording, it is proper after allowing one claim to object to the other as being a substantial duplicate of the allowed claim. See MPEP § 706.03(k).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

2. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

3. Claims 1-6, 11-12, 17, 19-22 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by the German reference (296 19 564).

The German reference teaches a tablet machine, comprising a punch (1) and a corresponding die (1'), wherein the punch includes a body portion (2), an embossing element (3), and a tip portion (7) having a non-stick coating of zirconia (see the English abstract).

4. Claims 1, 12-15, 17 and 19-24 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by the Japanese reference (61-293410).

Art Unit: 1722

The Japanese reference teaches powder molding apparatus, comprising a mold with a metal base (1) and a die (10) and a corresponding punch (7), wherein the die is made of stabilized zirconia and having an annular cylindrical shape (10, abstract).

5. Claims 1-6, 12-15, 17 and 19-24 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Eddy et al (3,732,056).

Eddy et al teaches a molding apparatus, comprising a pair of upper and lower punches (28, 30), and a tubular die (26) for compacting powder material, wherein the punches and the die are made of stabilized zirconia (col. 2, line 66 – col. 3, line 22).

6. Claims 1, 12, and 14-16 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Niiler et al (5,162,118).

Niiler et al teach an apparatus for compacting mixed powder material, comprising a steel mold plate (25) and a Zirconia linear located inside the mold cavity (col. 6, lines 16-25).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

7. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Art Unit: 1722

8. Claims 7-11 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Eddy et al (3,732,056) as applied to claims 1-6, 12-15, 17 and 19-24 above, and further in view of the second German reference (298 07 840).

Eddy et al disclose a powder forming press as described above, but fail to disclose that the shaped member having a recess region, a protrusion in the form of the alphabet letter.

The German reference ('840) discloses a tablet forming machine, comprising a tablet forming tool body (2) having an embossing surface with a recessed region (4'') and a protrusion in the form of an alphabet letter (N) for producing an embossed in the forming tablet.

It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the applicant's invention was made to modify Eddy et al by providing an embossing or recess on the mold surface as taught by the German reference ('840), because the embossing or the recess would form a stamping structure on the tablet surface to create a distinguish mark or for identification purposes.

In regard to claim 10, it is in the scope of a skilled artisan to configure and dimension the embossing means to have very small, microscopic, indentations to form configurations on the product surface such that it would be invisible to the naked eye, if so desired. The size or the shape of a mold structure will not render the apparatus claims patentable over the prior art of record. In Gardner v. TEC Systems, Inc., 725 F.2d 1338, 220 USPQ 777 (Fed. Cir. 1984), cert. denied, 469 U.S. 830, 225 USPQ 232 (1984), the Federal Circuit held that, where the only difference between the prior art and the claims was a recitation of relative dimensions of the claimed device and a device having the claimed relative dimensions would not perform differently than the prior art device, the claimed device was not patentably distinct from the prior art device.
